Korean Beef Bulgogi Skewers

Ingredients

For 4

- 400g beef steak, thinly sliced
- 1 Asian pear (or ½ regular pear)
- 4 garlic cloves
- 1 tsp fresh ginger
- 60ml soy sauce
- 30g brown sugar
- 1 tbsp sunflower oil
- Black pepper
- Steamed white rice (to serve)
- 1 head butter lettuce
- 1 cucumber
- 2 spring onions
- Dipping sauce:
- 3 tbsp soy sauce
- 1 tbsp honey
- 1 tbsp rice vinegar
- 1 garlic clove
- Wooden skewers (soaked in water)

Directions

The Magic Marinade

Grate the pear, garlic, and ginger into a bowl. Here's the secret: enzymes in the pear actually break down the meat and make it melt-in-your-mouth tender. Add the soy sauce, brown sugar, sunflower oil, and a good crack of black pepper. Mix well. Add the beef slices to the marinade and turn to coat every piece. The longer it sits the better!

Thread the Skewers

Fold each slice of beef back and forth like a ribbon and thread onto the soaked wooden skewers. Try to fit 3–4 slices on each skewer.

Make the Dipping Sauce

Mix the soy sauce, honey, rice vinegar, and grated garlic together in a small bowl. Taste and adjust — more honey for sweet, more vinegar for tangy.

Prep the Wraps

Separate the lettuce leaves into cups. Slice the cucumber and spring onions into thin pieces. Arrange everything on the board for assembly.

Cook the Skewers

Heat a pan or griddle on high heat. Cook the skewers for 2–3 minutes each side until caramelised and cooked through. Rest for 2 minutes.

Wrap and Go!

Take a lettuce leaf, add a spoonful of rice, lay a skewer of beef across it, top with cucumber and spring onion, and dip into the sauce. Fold and eat — Korean BBQ style!
