Lemongrass Chicken and Rice Noodle Salad

Ingredients

For 4

- 400g chicken breast,
- 2 stalks lemongrass
- 4 limes
- 30g brown sugar
- 1 head garlic
- 60ml fish sauce
- Oil
- 150g bún noodles
- 1 carrot
- ½ green mango
- 60g cucumber
- Spring onions
- Mint & coriander
- Vietnamese basil
- Sunflower seeds

Directions

Marinade

Crush 1–2 garlic cloves and bruise half a lemongrass stalk. Mix in a bowl with the juice of half a lime, 1 spoon of sugar, and 2 spoons of fish sauce. Add the chicken directly to the marinade. Mix well to coat every piece and set aside.

Prep the Vegetables

Shred the carrot, mango, spring onion, and cucumber into thin strips. Arrange in separate colourful piles — the more colours, the better!

Cook the Chicken

Fry the chicken and marinade in a little hot oil for 5–6 minutes. Turn and cook for another 5–6 minutes. Rest for 5 minutes, then slice the thickest piece to check it's cooked through.

Noodles and Herbs

Cook the noodles according to the packet. Pick the best herb leaves from their stems and arrange in piles alongside the vegetables.

Make the Dressing

Mix 4 spoons sugar, ¼ cup water, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup fish sauce. Dissolve in a pan, grate in garlic, finish with lime.

Toast and Assemble

Toast sunflower seeds in a dry pan. Layer up: noodles first, then vegetables, then chicken, then herbs and seeds on top. Add dressing and serve immediately.
